Look Ahead America's Work Prompts Georgia Secretary of State Investigations

Washington, DC – In April 2021, Look Ahead America (LAA) published a report in which it confirmed having found over 1,400 illegal and questionable registrations at P.O. Boxes, among other types of registration anomalies, in the state of Georgia.

Ian Camacho, LAA's Director of Research, made the following statement:

The legacy media, Georgia State Senator Bee Nguyen, and Georgia Secretary of State (GA SOS) Brad Raffensperger dismissed our work as “baseless” and as a “conspiracy theory.” Raffensperger even repeated his earlier lies that all the election related claims he had received were false at the January 6th kangaroo court.

Yet, despite using our suggested National Change of Address (NCOA) method to clean the voter rolls of over 100,000 voters, which he initially dismissed, Raffensperger's own office now has considered at least 2 cases serious enough to warrant an official investigation.

Although the wheels of justice turn slowly, we are glad to see investigations finally taking place. Although no formal charges have been made – yet – this investigation validates the quality work by our group, and its persistence in seeking justice and election reforms.

While we wish that this and more had been done earlier, we understand that many states lack adequate resources to conduct investigations into election fraud. For this and other reasons, we promote a dedicated voter fraud investigation division within the Attorney General's Office and mandatory, publicized voter list hygiene as some of our core election reform values at Look Ahead America.
